

Jurisdiction specific terms

Last modified: 11 November 2022

Please read these terms carefully.

Depending on your location, some of these jurisdiction-specific terms will apply to you. They form part of the FabZing customer terms of service and are hereby incorporated therein.

We periodically update this page by posting a revised copy on our websites www.fabzing.com, so please check back here for current information. If you're looking for definitions of the terms used here, you can find them in the general terms available on the same website.

1. Contracting entity; applicable law; notice

1.1 your physical address will determine:

- (a) the FabZing entity entering into this agreement,
- (b) the address to which you should direct notices under this agreement,
- (c) the law that will apply in any dispute or lawsuit arising out of or in connection with this agreement, and
- (d) the courts that have jurisdiction over any such dispute or lawsuit, as set out in the table below.

For this agreement, 'customer location' means your shipping or physical address.

Customer location	FabZing contracting entity	Address for notices	Governing law, (without reference to conflicts of laws) and jurisdiction
All Countries	FabZing Pty Ltd.	FabZing Pty Ltd. DickFos Dunn, 22 Garden Street, Southport QLD 4215, Australia	Laws and courts of New South Wales, Australia

If you are located in a geographic region that does not fall into one of the designations described in the table above, or if you use only the free services, then you are contracting with FabZing Pty Ltd.
